“ My condolences to the family. Erica always knew what to say in any situation. Wednesday night, I picked her up so we could go to Walmart. Two hours later, we're sitting in my car at the Walmart parking lot still, crying together. I treasure every moment I got to spend with her, and I'm so grateful she came into my life. I never thought this day would come, and I'm so glad I got to meet her, and call her my best friend. Erica was a light that could hardly be dimmed, and I know that her and Milo are together now, watching over us. She was such a strong influence, and she still is. I'm happy to carry on the lessons she taught me, and live life to the fullest.

“ I am very sorry for your loss. My condolences go out to the family and friends of Erica Morgan. My name is David Paullin and I am a graduate studies student. I live in Sheridan, Wyoming and I am taking graduate studies courses on-line through Chadron State College. I am working on completion of my Master's Degree in school counseling. I did not know your daughter, grand daughter, sister, cousin, niece, friend, mentor, role model, and leader. I know that I would want people to provide comfort and consolation to my family and friends from friends, neighbors, family, and even strangers. I am a Catholic Christian and I am blind. I will pray the Holy Rosary for your daughter Erica Morgan. I will pray that Our Lady of the Rosary will intercede for her on her behalf. I will keep her, her family, and friends in my thoughts and prayers. May her memory be eternal. May her memory be eternal. May her memory be eternal.

Should you go first and I remain, to walk the road alone, I'll live in memories garden, dear, with happy days we've known. In spring I'll wait for roses red, when faded, the lilacs blue. In early fall when brown leaves fall, I'll catch a glimpse of you. I'll hear your voice, I'll see your smile, tho blindly I may grope, The memory of your helping hand will buoy me on with hope. Should you go first and I remain, one thing I'll have you do: Walk slowly down that long long path, for soon I'll follow you. I want to know each step you take, So I may take the same. For someday down that lonely road, you'll hear me call your name.

A Hug Is Valuable

Poem

By: David A. Paullin

Jesuit Volunteer Corps Northwest AmeriCorps Volunteer Member, 2014-2015, 2015-2016

Cherish the gift of touch,

A hug is an offering, an invitation, worth taking;

A hug provides strength and consolation, even one someone's heart is breaking;

Soothing and tenderness are needed very much;

A hug is a hello and a good bye,

A child feels safe and warm in his or her parents caring and gentle embrace;

A hug is a way to see each other face to face;

A hug makes it o.k. to cry;

A hug says without words that I am here and that I care

A hug does no harm;

A hug links people through connection, arm to arm;

A hug means that I am willing and able to lighten your burden a little bit, that you bear;

A hug means that I love you,

A hug allows for one to be held and to hold;

A hug means that I am here through and through;

A hug never gets old;

A hug is valuable,

A hug is valuable.

I know that Erica was loved by her family and friends. Love is willing and desiring the good of another as other.

If I were there in Nebraska, I would give the family members and friends a hug, a handshake, I would hold hands with people, and I would provide some kleenex or tissue to let someone have a good and long cry. I know that it may be hard right now to know what to say or to do. One of the best things that you can do is to "be with" the people that you know care and want to "be with" you in your time of need. I know that it may be very hard to put into words thoughts, feelings, and emotions. Erica's death was so sudden, so shocking and stunning, tragic, so final, and so unfair in many people's minds and hearts. So, please take the time-- all of it that you need to grieve and to mourn. Please grieve and mourn in your own way and in your own time. It is o.k. to yell, scream, curse, shout, get angry because there has to be some anger, be sad, for her death is a sad event, and experience other emotions. I am here to talk and to listen.

Peace!

God Bless!!

Best,

“ Dear Daren and Ida,
I am so sorry for your loss. My heart aches when I think about what you must be going through. She was a lovely girl and she clearly made a huge impact on the people around her. I will be keeping you guys in my prayers.

Love and hugs from Denmark,
Michelle (Shelly)
