“ Carole's dedication to her role was extraordinary. When she drove to visit relatives in Nebraska, she knew which rest stop in Iowa had free Wifi so she could issue certain documents while taking a break. She will be missed.

“ Family and Friends of Carole Bacon.... I am so very sorry to hear of Carole's passing. I remember meeting her in the hallways of work asking how she was doing during the first rounds of chemo and she was so strong thru it all. I so enjoyed talking with her throughout the years. May you find peace in her memory and smile. I am sorry I missed the memorial today but am dealing with personal passing in our family. God be with you. Barb Becker

“ My heartfelt condolences to Carole's family and friends. I worked with her in the Grinding Media division at ME Global, and as the only other remaining Minnesota member of the team we almost always went to lunch when I was in the Minneapolis office. I know that if I had asked Carole to solve some sticky problem for me that she would always get to the bottom of it and get to the right solution.

I had just visited Carole several weeks ago and was shocked to hear of her passing so soon. She had a strong personality and was facing her situation with that strength. I am very glad we had an opportunity to visit. May she rest in peace.

“ I spent a week with Carole in training in the Minneapolis office. She had everything laid out, including how to clean up papers that we would receive. It only required 3 different programs to meet her expectations. Remembering that, she had to stop cleaning up the messy received documents because the auditors did not believe that she was cleaning them up. Carole had a strong personality, with her own way of doing things and organizing. These things made her who she was. Last year was a very bumpy road for her with the flood at her condo and the introduction of SAP. She was very strong, and fought so long against cancer. She deserved to triumph after such a long battle. She is already missed, and I know that she is looking down on us and laughing with all the fun that we are having with SAP.
She was a loving sister, daughter, aunt. Always enjoyed going antiquing with her sister. Most of all she loved chocolate and flowers!

“ This picture of Carole was taken in Oct, 2011 when ME had the marketing meeting in Figer’s Inn, Duluth and employees were given a boat tour of the Lake Superior.

I recall meeting with Carole in the Minneapolis office and she drove us in her brand-new Prius all the way to Duluth and back. After so many hours of driving together, Carole struck me as a lady with strong opinions, a 100% democrat, a loving sister and a caring daughter. Her vast knowledge of the Midwest region and history of the Iron Range made me feel like an elementary school student learning from a history and geography teacher.

Later, from working with her, I admired her dedication and passion about her job and how she did it and organized it. I often wonder where she got the strength and will to fight the cancer while enduring all the hardships and pains. What a champion she truly is. I learned to respect her ways of doing things because I knew that is how she is and she always meant well. That is all that matters.

It is very sad to see her go because we all wanted her to win after putting up a long and hard fight towards cancer. She can finally rest in peace and look down on us and smile. I’ll miss her voice and words for sure.
