“ Dan and Arlyn and families
We have many good memories of Uncle Charles. One of our favorite is taking a tour with Uncle Charles, Uncle Marvin and Aunt Ermine. It was a beautiful Nebraska day and we enjoyed seeing the various locations where they had grown up. Uncle Charles knew all the details of the original buildings, even if there was little or no structure left. It was a perfect day except for the ticks!!!
Uncle Charles was a great family man, an encyclopedia of knowledge of family history. We will all miss him.
We mourn his passing and ask for God's healing for us all.

“ Hello All, I am very sorry I wont be able to attend the services for Charles – He was very special to me. I am not feeling well and with the weather I’m not going to travel to Kearney.

I have many fond memories of the summer I worked on the farm with Charles and Jane. Dan was just new born at the time.

Of course Charles was always a prankster and he was looking for ways to “get” the teenager (me). He decided to teach me about electricity. He first had me cut down a large juicy sunflower. Then ‘he said’ just fry it up real nice on the electric fence, so naturally I did. Of course I got quite a jolt out of that. Now that I knew that trick I decided to try it on my brother Dave. Well, he tried but he grabbed me at the same time and I got another jolt. What joys!

That was the time I learned about skunks too. When we started the water running through the ditches, we chased one out of its nest. Luckily I wasn’t in the path when it sprayed. And sweat bees. I was up top stacking hay and they all seemed to find me there.

Charles taught me how to drive as well, first on the tractor and later in the car. I wasn’t tall enough to really reach the car pedals but we gave it a try. On the tractor, the clutch was that long handle that came up on the right side so I managed that easier.

Thanks for enjoying my stories, they sure are fond memories for me.
