“ Chase was one of the best people I ever met.

We met in a trash room where he made a joke and thought it was so bad that I would never talk to him again.

We didn't agree on absolutely anything but we always found common ground somewhere.

He was a genuine and authentic. He truly put his friends and family above himself.

I pray that God comforts the family and friends left behind and that anyone reading this finds hope in Christ.

“ Chase and I worked side-by-side in the Market area at Target in Lincoln, and I found that I enjoyed every day I had an opportunity to work with him, talk about just about anything and everything, and just enjoy being with him.

I wish that I had known that he had found his way to Mackinac Island in Michigan, as I grew up there and spent many years at our family cabin near the Straits.

Everything that I know of Chase speaks to what a wonderful family he was blessed to be a part of, and my heart goes out to all who are grieving his loss.
