My dear sister Debbie, you were an awesome woman of God, an awesome mom, grandmother and friend. Through the worst of times you never lost your faith in God though Satan threw every weapon he had at you. I remember the times we cried together, prayed for our families on the phone together or shared victories in the faith. You were an inspiration to me, my children and everyone who knew you. I know that you are in heaven, wearing the crown of life and the shining robes that Jesus promises to everyone who overcomes obstacles with their faith intact and who lead many people to faith in Jesus. Wait for me, I will be there when it is my time. I know that I will see you then.
