“ I find myself in great sorrow and in disbelief. The one person in a million years I would have never thought would have stood at the horizon of a black hole. I;ve been there before myself and know how fast and hard it takes you down. I had the priviledge to attend high school with Eric. He always had a smile on his face no matter what was going on through out the day. I thought he was just happy of all the women that chased him around. I will miss him and his ability to make positives out negatives. I truly hope the family finds sense of this great loss and able to lessen the burden of it through prayer, forgiveness and understanding through Jesus Christ.
