“ I have known George for over 15 years through working with him at Good Samaritan in surgery. I could always depend on him to be there for an emergency surgery. He was funny, cracking jokes to ease the stress, but most importantly, he knew the job and could be depended upon to have what you needed. George will truly be missed by everyone. I always was glad to see George, humble, dedicated man. May God bless him and his family. I will miss him!

“ I had the greatest time “growing up” with George during our college years and work at Eaton. George always kept us entertained and was a good man to have as a friend. One time Eaton had a layoff but George’s job was spared. Without telling anyone, George took a voluntary layoff so that a friend (Bill Wood) who had a wife and small kid’s, could stay employed. We only found out when Bill came to the house to thank him. That’s how George was. I really enjoyed catching up with him recently and know that he will be missed immensely.

“ I was so sad to hear of George’s passing. I loved George. I lived with George in Kearney for about two years (1985-86) He was one of the best roommates and friends I ever had. He was so good hearted and always kept us in stitches.

Although I have numerous fond memories of George, one fond memory really stands out for me. You see, he and I both loved Christmas, but I didn’t know this when we approached our first Christmas together. Sooo as the calendar turned to December, I said “Hey are we going to get a tree?” And George enthusiastically said, with that great big smile! “We gotta have a tree. I love Christmas!” And there the two-year tradition began. George had an artificial tree already, so he went and got the tree, broke out the Santa hats both of us wore and we played Christmas music while we decorated the tree. We always had a few beers while we decorated of course! :) And finished the night off by having quite a few more as we admired our work. We laughed and enjoyed the time together. A couple young bucks enjoying the Christmas season. Very unique for the time and for our ages. But a warm fuzzy, in my life, that I will never forget.

George was a good man! I feel so fortunate to have known him not only as a person but more importantly as a friend. Rest in peace Georgie!

Sincerely, Mark Van Pelt
