George Thomas Lane was born on July 31, 1932 in Indianapolis, IN to William M. and Joyce (Breysacher) Lane. He grew up and received his education in Indianapolis. Following high school George continued to live in Indianapolis where he worked for Indiana Gear Works. He later moved to Denver where he was instrumental in the development of solar panels. He was also very involved in the enhancement of the central vacuum system. In 1990 he moved to Kearney where he began Lane's Seafood.

George was an enthusiastic entrepreneur throughout his life. He was a very intelligent man and loved to read. He was also a gifted artist and musician. George had a way of telling stories that could catch the attention of any audience. He was also a licensed pilot and he always looked forward to time in his plane. George was a caretaker and always looked at other's needs

Survivors include his loving wife, Lorna Lane of Kearney; his children, Laura Getz of Vancouver, WA; Barry Lane of Vancouver, WA, Greg Lane of Denver, CO; Lisa Osis and husband Michael of Eugene, OR; Monte Haines of Seoul, Korea; a brother Larry Lane and wife Rosemarie of Edmond, OK; his grandchildren, Griff Haines and Mae Grace Haines both of Dallas, TX, Chris Getz, Ryan Morrison and Charity Smith Schemberger, all of Vancouver, WA , David Loitwood Wilke, Jeremy Michael Wilke and Elizabeth Amber Wilke, all of Eugene, OR; and many friends.

He was preceded in death by his parents; a stepson, John Haines; three brothers, Richard Lane, William Lane and Donald Lane; and a sister, Helen Lane.
