“ *Our grandmothers were sisters although Marcia was older than I she included me in conversation which was nice to get away from the grandmother conversations. She always had such a nice way about her that she immediately became a close cousin and always look forward to our grandmother's visits so I could be with her. Later on as we Became older we didn't see as much of each other. She got married and was busy with children and I was busy growing up myself. My mom and her mom stayed close so I always felt I was in touch and later on when our mothers passed we became close again
I will definitely miss Marcia And our memorial day rendezvous's*
