Margie Mae Miller was born October 27, 1938 in Curtis, Nebraska to John and Viola (Nelsen) Jensen. She grew up on a farm in Cottonwood Canyon, south of Maxwell. Margie graduated from Brady High School with the class of 1956. Shortly after graduation, she attended Kearney State College and received a rural teaching certificate.

On May 29, 1958, Margie was united in marriage to Gayle Lavern Miller. The couple lived on Redfern table north of Cozad. To this union two children were born in Callaway: Annette Sue and Douglas Lavern. The couple made their home in Grand Island to raise their children. Margie and Gayle then moved to Lincoln where Margie worked at UNL in Student Loans, a job she truly loved. The couple later moved to Valentine and finally Kearney.

Left to cherish her memory are her husband, Gayle Miller of Kearney; daughter, Annette Miller and her husband, Michael Wescott of Kearney; son, Doug Miller and his wife, Rachael of Tucson, Arizona; three grandchildren: Lexi Wescott, Ila Miller and Luca Miller; sister, Ila Dailey and her husband, Earl; along with other relatives and many friends.

Margie Mae was preceded in death by her parents; sister, Ruby Sailor and her husband, Bob; and brother, Harold Jensen.

“Marg Miller, was a delightful, smart, kind and energetic woman. She was so well organized, caring and gracious. The few years that we knew her were precious. Talk about a woman who gave, gave and then gave some more. If the world had more dedicated women like Marg, it would be a much better place for all of us to live. Marilyn and I visited her twice after she moved. She gave me the Grand Tour of her new city the first time and bubbled about all of the opportunities. She will be missed by many, but her love of family was at the top of her list. She left us way too soon. In many ways she reminds me of my own parents. She knew how to get things done. Just the thought of her Valentine Garage Sale makes me smile. She was trying to sell me as much as she could. She was an example to many, never saw a hair out of place, nails done, clothes always appropriate. She was a woman before her time. Marg.... The CEO, amazing role model. Sorry she moved away from Valentine. Love, hugz and gratitue to a real Lady.

Marg one time ask me to loan Zander to her, as he was such a nice young man.

Anne and Doug were blessed to call her "Mom".
