Phyllis was a faithful member of the Wisconsin Lutheran Synod throughout her adult life, she was a member at Zion in Mission, SD, Trinity in Winner, SD and Good Shepherd in Kearney, NE. She was active in various organizations through the church and helped out with many projects over the years.

Phyllis lived on the family farm in southeastern Todd County, SD, near the community of Keya Paha, Nebraska; she attended country school through eighth grade and attended high school in Mission, SD at Todd County High School, living on the campus during the school year. Phyllis graduated from Todd County High School in 1953 and was active with alumni association keeping records and addresses of alumni until her declining health impacted this work in 2007. Phyllis enjoyed staying in touch with the alumni of TCHS as she worked diligently to find information on former alums who the committee had lost contact with. The Todd County High School reunions were a very important to Phyllis, she very much enjoyed the opportunity to catch up with old friends from around the immediate area as well as from across the country.

Phyllis rejoined the work force in 1966 involved in the Title Five program, at the end of this program she was able to re-join the Department of Social Services, retiring after 34 years of service in January 1997. The star quilt that Phyllis received upon her retirement was an item that she was very proud of and grateful for.

Phyllis and her mother were avid seamstresses, making many of her children's clothes, Phyllis was always working on crafts or projects, usually making gifts for the special people in her life, friends or family.

Phyllis' main passion was crocheting, she crocheted everything from potholders and baby blankets to full sized afghans. She was always looking for a way to add a crocheted border to a blanket or add a personalized touch to something she wanted to give to someone. She enjoyed making and

“ Reuben and Phillip,

Your mother was a great friend to my family. After we moved to Nebraska, we missed seeing her every week at church. I had the blessing of keeping in contact with Phyllis by telephone as I worked at Social Services in Valentine and we needed to check on mutual clients regularly. I am happy to think of her in heaven, all young and healthy again and telling stories on herself. My thoughts and prayers are with you.

“ Dearest Reuben, Phil, Lois & Sons: Please accept our sincere sympathy in the death of your beloved wife, mother and grandmother. We have many happy memories of our years in S.D. when Cheryl was about a year old and Phil was a couple years older. Your family was one of our first visitors and as you all sat together on the couch with Cheryl on her Mom's lap and Phil sitting quietly next to his Dad, I thought : "What a beautiful family!" You were among the church's most devoted members always ready to pitch in and do whatever was necessary. I especially remember Phyllis' beautiful smile, quick laugh and witty remarks. We shared many a delicious meal in your home. One night Reuben commented on a new dessert which Phyllis tried. It was tasty but crust was tough to chew. His remark to his loving wife was: "If I had wanted cement, I would have called Willard (Grablander). Once again she responded with her quick laugh and showed no resentment. God be with you all and comfort you during this difficult time as you await a blessed reunion with Phyllis in heaven.
