“ I remember as a little girl visiting my grandma at Tia Olgas house, grandma always received you with a smile. I also remember her that every Sunday she would watch Sabado Gigante she probably never missed a show. I don't recall seeing her in a bad mood or getting mad. I did have the privilege of having her lived with us in Texas and I have beautiful memories of her and my mom talking and cooking together. Their friendship is what I now have with my mother. She was indeed a great role model, something I now see my mother as. Thank you grandma for always loving all your grandchildren the same. I love you always grandma.
