“ I will miss our times together as the "Grandmas" at family gatherings, sports and school events, and mostly just as friends. When we first met, I worried for no reason you might not see me as someone deserving to love your daughter and grandson as my own, however, you graciously opened your heart and welcomed my family to unite with yours. What a blessing I have enjoyed as a friend knowing you were always near and available to the children and grandchildren we both adore.

I promise to give them all extra hugs and keep the memory of you and your faithful love strong in our hearts and minds.

Fly high and free from the physical pain of the body and let your loving spirit embrace us all. Thanks again for being my friend.
